

Peek at the Week: Jan. 22nd – 26th, 2018

This week in Kindergarten... What a crazy start to our week! This week we will continue to talk about measurement using non-standard units and comparing the length of different items in the classroom. Please watch for a Measurement Math Homework assignment to come home this week!

Monday: Snow Day!

Tuesday: Snow Day!

Wednesday: Jolly Phonics "Gg" is for God, grapes, games, gorilla...
Library is closed today.
Snuggle Up and Read Bags due (red reading logs and classroom book).

Thursday: We will try to take both RED and BLUE groups to the library today to exchange their books. Please be sure to return your child's library book.
Snuggle Up and Read bags to go home today
February Milk/Lunch orders due

Friday: Mrs. McParland away this morning. We welcome Mrs. Bradley to our classroom!
Pajama Day - Please wear your Pajamas to school as a way to celebrate Family Literacy Day! We will also participate in some fun literacy activities such as having a Mystery Reader! Hmm... wonder who it could be??
January School Mass has been postponed till next week.
Hot Lunch: Spaghetti Day
Blankets and Bags go home to be washed.

Did you know that Saturday Jan. 27th is Family Literacy Day!!

Looking ahead: Tuesday Jan. 30th - January Terrific Kids Assembly @ 1:30pm
Wednesday January 31st is a PA day - No School for students!
Thursday Feb. 1st - January school mass in the gym @ 10:00am
- All are welcome to attend

Jolly Phonics: What will be in the Mystery Box this week? (golf ball). Does your name have a "Gg" in it? What does your name sound like if we put a "G" in front of it? The action for "Gg" is pretending that our hand is water as it gurgles and goes round and round down the drain saying g,g,g,gone! We will read the story of the Good Samaritan from the Bible. Thanks for sending those letter of the week words in!

Looking Ahead to February... Valentine's Day is less than a month away! In Kindergarten, it is MUCH easier for all of us if your child's cards are simply addressed to: 'A Friend' OR 'My Valentine' rather than personalizing them with each classmate's name. However! If your child can read the names independently, then we are happy to send home a class list; simply write us a note ☺

For our little friends who are learning to print their names... signing their Valentine cards is a great way to practise. If you begin soon and have your child sign their name on one card/day, voila! The job is done ☺

More info you may need to know... We have 26 students in our class altogether!

Math Homework Assignment: We have been busy learning about measurement in our classroom. We have been measuring items using non-standard units of measurement such as cubes, shoes and even our bodies! We have also been comparing items using the terms longer/taller and shorter. We will be sending home a measurement homework assignment for you and your little one to complete at home and return to share with the class. Please watch for it to come home this week. The assignment will be due next Thursday Feb. 1st. Thanks for your support.

Have a great week, everyone!

Love, Mrs. Gyr & Mrs. GcParland
