

Peek at the Week: February 5th-9th, 2018

This week in Kindergarten...

- Monday: Mrs. McParland away today. We welcome "Ms. Ann" to our classroom!
Jolly Phonics: Letter "Oo" is for Oliver, on, off, octopus, orange, octagon...
- Tuesday: Library for RED Group Friends ~ please return library books
Chicken Noodle Soup Day!
- Wednesday: Library for BLUE Group Friends ~ please return library books
Snuggle Up and Read Bags due (red reading logs and classroom book).
- Thursday: Snuggle-Up & Read Bags go home
- Friday: Hot Lunch: Subs
Rest Time bags and blankets go home to be washed.

Jolly Phonics: For the letter "Oo", the action is pretending to turn a light off and on as we say, "o-o-o" (short vowel 'o' sound like 'on'). Thank you for sending in a word for our letter of the week list.

Math Measurement Homework: Thank you so much for your support in helping your child complete their Math Measurement Homework. The children have been so excited to share their findings with their classmates. We are slowly working our way through the pile of homework sheets each day. Please return math measurement homework if you have not done so already...it's not too late! 😊

Cold and Flu Season is most definitely here. We will review proper hand-washing and the importance of coughing into our elbows. Thank you also for respecting our 24 hour guideline ~ no fever, no vomiting & no diarrhea for 24 hours before returning to school. Let's hope that our little ones and big ones stay healthy!

*Please watch our school website for our classroom February Newsletter. It should be available by mid-week this week.

Have an outstanding week, everyone!

Love, Mrs. Cyr & Mrs. McParland
