

Peek At Our Week: October 16, 2017

This Week in Kindergarten...

Monday: Marching Monday (we will collect natural items for an art project)
Jolly Phonics "Pp" is for pumpkin, pig...
Rest time bags and blankets are due back please

Tuesday: We are looking for numbers that are all around us! Help your child find some numbers at home

Wednesday: Let's celebrate the letter "Pp"!!! Please wear items that begin with this week's letter like... pants, purple, pink, ponchos... We will make playdough in class

Thursday: Snuggle Up and Read green duotang, library book and classroom books due please and thank you.

Friday: Yoga

Jolly Phonics: The action and sound for Pp is putting out our pointer finger and pretending that it is a candle that we are blowing out as we say, "p-p-p". What was in the Mystery Box today? (our class pumpkin). Does your name have a Pp in it? Please remember to send in your list of Pp words.

T is for Talents: A big thank you for the terrific work that was done on this special assignment. The children will have an opportunity to share their work with their classmates.

Snuggle Up and Read Reading Program: Please ensure that you record both the classroom book as well as the school library book in your child's green reading log. A reminder as well that books are due on Thursdays now - if you complete everything before then, by all means send it in, however, do not send books back until all is complete. Note as well that the library Ziploc bags will no longer be used; simply place books inside your child's Note-Tote. Many thanks!

Looking ahead to Hallowe'en Day - children will be asked to wear orange and black; costumes need to remain at home.

Last Week's Memorable Moments...

One of our JK boys was helping the other JK boy pack his heavy school bag. I pointed out what a Bucket-Filler he was being. "It's my pleasure". 😊

As we were lined up ready to walk to the gym, one SK boy to an SK girl, "Oh! Your hair is so beautiful and it smells so goooood!"

Have a perfect week everyone! Love, Mrs. Peward
