Jolly Phonics: For the letter "Rr", we meet a dog named Rags who really wants his blanket back. To get it, he says, "r-r-r-r-r" as he shakes his head back and forth. In the Mystery Box today, the children found Rudolph. As always, families are encouraged to send in a word that begins with our letter of the week so we can add it to our class "Rr" list.

Advent Wreaths: The children came home with their Advent Wreaths on Friday. Please ensure that you either tape it or staple it together and place it in a special spot. The first candle can be "lit".

Our classroom needs Kleenex as well as glue sticks. If you can send anything in, it will be greatly appreciated and put to good use.

For our Christmas Concert, the children will be animals in the stable that a certain little baby was born in. Your child will be a...

Sheep and will need to have a white shirt for the concert.

Cow and will need to have a black shirt for the concert.

Donkey and will need to have a brown or beige shirt for the concert.

Please send in your child's shirt labelled with his/her name in a Ziploc bag by December 18th.

Empty wooden clementine crates are needed for our upcoming Nativity Scene project. Remember to mark December 20th on your calendar for our Christmas Concert! If you did not complete the Mystery Reader form, could you please do so? Thank you.

Have a rockin' week, everyone! Love, Mrs. Reward
